12. What did you especially like about the seminar?

- I really like how the professor encourage participants and sum up the point in easy, interesting stories.

- It was very helpful to get a question matched with a fitting paper. Also the small size of the seminar group is very inviting and makes discussion and questiona asking less intimidating.

- The diversity of the topics cover but also the connectivity of the topics. The papers provided new perspective of the core models. For example pairing fair wage , effective wage with the Melitz model.

- First, thank you for covering the seminar, when Miriam Kohl couldn't and not splitting us up over the other seminars!

in general i like the setup of seminars, since it's an opportunity to go more into detail on a topic, learning how to use the theories and sills learned in the lectures. From this seminar I liked the atmosphere during and also before the presentations, that we had a good meeting with the professor and then a good atmosphere during the presentations. Also of course I liked the content of the seminar and how there was a red line between the topics.

- The professor was really helpful and chill. I expected him to be very strict and ask us questions but turned out he was helping us explaining all the important points about the paper.

- After and in between the presentation professor took the floor and made cll complex equations very clear and helped me to get the main essence of most of the papers.

- The discussion session after the presentation mostly consisting of breaking down the main message of the paper from professor harms was really insightful. Plus also having a eye on the limitations of each model and where it fits in in the broader field of economcis.

- The feed back from the professor was amazing. He is kind, gentle and able to make corrections with hurting the feelings of the one presenting.

I'm glad I was part of the class

13. What should be improved?

- Not much :) but i would like it if we have more choices for choosing topic

- It should start from afternoon and not 9AM in the morning because it's very difficult to concentrate and give the presentation that early in the morning.

- As it was my first seminar and everything worked for me perfectly and am very okay with it.
So i have no clue what can be added and improved..
